Some of my NEW favorite things...

High Ratio Shortening Super Quik-Blend from Wesson

Have you ever wondered how bakeries can make icing that is so smooth and creamy? The secret is in the type of shortening. Bakeries use a high ratio shortening - one that is specifically formulated for cakes, icings and sweet doughs. High ratio shortening has special emulsifiers that are added to the shortening so that it can absorb more sugar and liquid. Icings have lots of sugar and using a high ratio shortening allows for the absorption of the sugar and liquid and produces a fluffier and creamier icing. Try this shortening - I think you will love it - especially for your icing recipes.

Royal Icing Sugar Decorations

These decorations are so cute! They make a great edible addition to cupcakes or added onto cakes to complete a theme. They come in seahorse, jungle and farm animal themes, blue and pink baby shower designs, dinosaurs, butterflies, flowers and more. We will even have some for Halloween decorations.
